SOMETHING ABOUT MARY

Mary Katrantzou has an eye for detail that shines in the London-based designer's signature prismatic prints and feminine silhouettes. Styles were on full display at the Hudson's Bay Foundation, The Room and Rogers Communications' Haute Health fundraising fashion show at Toronto's Arcadian Court. The runway at the VIP event was even lined with the same bubblegum-pink foam she used in her fall-winter 2015 preview in London. Between interviews and the three courses of the sumptuous lunch, Mary was making last-minute hair, makeup and wardrobe decisions to ensure that every model looked her best. It was all for a great cause: funds raised will support the Dotsa Bitove Wellness Academy and the University Health Network.
